

On February 17, 2009, the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act (ARRA) was passed by Congress and signed into law by President Obama. ARRA provides increased support to several existing federal programs administered by states, creates new programs such as the State Fiscal Stabilization Fund, and offers opportunities for states to apply for competitive grant programs.

The American Recovery and Reinvestment Act's significant investment in North Carolina totaled almost $19.5 billion, including assistance for those needing help the most through increases in unemployment benefits, Medicaid payments, and food stamps. In addition to those expanded services, ARRA gives hundreds of thousands of working North Carolinians a break through tax credits like the Making Work Pay tax credit and the First Time Homebuyer's tax credit.

The Recovery Act is not like earlier attempts to revive the nation's economy. It is not only a one-time infusion of federal funds; instead it is a long-term effort to restore economic expansion in the short-term, as well as prepare the nation's economy for stable, healthy long-term growth. Under the terms of the Recovery Act, support for North Carolina's economy will include both investments made directly by the federal government and investments of federal funds that are made under the oversight of the North Carolina state government.

Education

The Recovery Act placed a special emphasis on maintaining education funding. Governor Beverly Perdue furthered this commitment by pledging additional recovery funds from the Recovery Act to education, and leading North Carolina to additional funds by winning $400 million in the Race to the Top program.

Most of the ARRA education funds are distributed to local schools through existing funding formulas. Special Education Funds and Title I funds go to schools based on eligible student enrollment. State Fiscal Stabilization Funds (SFSF) and the EduJobs grants were designed to hold schools harmless during the recession, and were distributed to public and charter schools. The school systems have spent the majority of the funds on staff and support. Some projects, such as Race to the Top, will be spent for purchasing products and services rather than salaries for staff.

Authorization for low/no interest bonds for school construction/renovation followed the Department of Public Instruction procedures with initial allotments to the school systems. If a school system could not utilize their allotment, it was released to other school systems that could utilize additional allotments.

Cumberland County schools received $124.5 million in education funding, including $12 million in Special Education funds, $13.7 million in Title I funds, $38.6 million in SFSF funds, $8.4 million in Race to the Top funding and a 30 million bond allocation.

Pell Grants are an educational Assistance Program that provides grants to eligible students to receive post-secondary or vocational training. Because Pell Grants are not student loans, they allow students to receive financial assistance to further education and training without incurring additional debt. The American Recovery and Reinvestment Act increased the eligibility and the maximum amount of Pell Grants in 2009 and 2010 as a way to encourage educational opportunities, and to provide a way for eligible applicants to gain new job skills.

Cumberland County institutions had 11,143 students funded by Pell Grants; these grants were worth almost $21 million.

Family Assistance

The Federal Department of Agriculture increased funding to their Single-Family home program with the ARRA. These resources assisted families in achieving the American Dream of home ownership through direct financial assistance (grants) or credit (loan guarantees). This program pumped more than $729 million into North Carolina, providing assistance to more than 5,400 families.

In Cumberland County, 105 families received assistance through this program totaling more than $13 million.

The Department of Energy created the Energy Star Appliance rebate program to help stimulate the economy by incentivizing the purchase of new, more energy efficient appliances, and helping consumers by providing long-term savings from their utility bills. The State Energy Office in the North Carolina Department of Commerce managed the program insuring North Carolina residents and retailers received the maximum benefit from this opportunity. North Carolina retailers sold more than 25,500 new energy efficiency appliances through this program, and North Carolina residents will enjoy energy savings for years to come. The program was so successful, that the State Energy Office reprogrammed additional funding to provide discounts to everyone participating in the program, bringing the total program value from $8 up to $10 Million.

Cumberland County retailers sold 547 appliances through the Energy Star Appliance rebate program.

Small Business Assistance

The ARRA provided tax breaks, increased depreciation of business assets, and incentives for hiring for small businesses through the tax law changes found in Part B of the Act. The Recovery Act also established direct aid programs through the federal Small Business Administration (SBA) and US Department of Agriculture (USDA). These programs provided grants, loans and loan guarantees to grant small businesses access to much-needed operational credit during 2009 and 2010.

In Cumberland County 44 small businesses received SBA loan guarantees worth $14 million. According to the small businesses receiving these loans, the Recovery Act saved or created 385 jobs.

CARS Program

The Car Allowance Rebate Program (CARS), more widely known as the 'Cash-for-Clunkers' program, provided an incentive for drivers of older, energy inefficient vehicles to upgrade to new cars. This program also provided a large economic impact in North Carolina, and North Carolina dealers received more than 18,000 trade-in vehicles through this program. North Carolina Car Dealers sold more than $400,000,000 worth of new cars (recommended MSRP) through the CARS program. North Carolina drivers will save 172,130 miles per gallon through cars purchased through this program.

In Cumberland County, car dealers sold 502 cars worth $11 million through the ARRA CARS program.

Justice and Public Safety Programs

ARRA increased funding to the federal Byrne Justice Assistance Grants Program (JAG). JAG funds were awarded both as a formula allocation to the State, for $34.5 million, and grants distributed by the Governor's Crime Commission to various local governments and entities. In addition, $21,853,798 went to 216 local governments across the state for various purposes in line with the requirements of the act. Finally, there is a federal competitive portion that was open to state or local government applicants.

In Cumberland County, the Cumberland County Government, the Town of Hope Mills, the Town of Spring Lake, and Fayetteville State University all received JAG grants, worth more than $1 million.

The COPS (Community Oriented Policing Services) awards grants to law enforcement agencies to hire and train community policing professionals, acquire and deploy cutting-edge crime-fighting technologies, and develop and test innovative policing strategies. COPS funding also provides training and technical assistance to community members and local government leaders and all levels of law. In order to help leverage the efficiency of these programs Governor Perdue set aside additional funding to help pay for uniforms and equipment for local governments who have new COPS funded positions.

In Cumberland County, the City of Fayetteville and the Town of Hope Mills had 18 officers funded through COPS Grants. This award was worth more than $2.5 million

Broadband Programs

The Recovery Act funded two dedicated high-speed broadband programs, the USDA's Broadband Initiatives Program (BIP), and the US Department of Commerce's Broadband Technology Opportunities Program (BTOP). The BIP focused on the creation of new service or the expansion of existing services in rural areas, while the BTOP focused on statewide or regional development of important broadband infrastructure.

In Cumberland County, Fayetteville State University received a BIP/BTOP grant for a public computer center for more than $1 million.

Environment and Natural Resources Programs

ARRA funded several programs to protect the environment, or to develop natural resources more efficiently. These programs ranged from environmental clean-up, such as leaking underground storage tank abatement and Brownfields programs, to EPA clean air grants, wildfire prevention grants, and revolving funds to build, expand, or overhaul existing water and sewer programs. These programs provided nearly $150 million across North Carolina.

In Cumberland County, the City of Fayetteville, the Town of Spring Lake, and the Town of Linden received water and sewer grants for more than $1.3 million.

Green Energy Programs

One of the goals of ARRA was to provide grants to help conserve energy and assist in the development of a green economy. The State Energy Office in the North Carolina Department of Commerce received large grants for energy conservation under the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act. These grants include the Energy Efficiency Conservation Block Grant (EECBG), funded at just under $20 million, and the State Energy Plan (SEP), funded at $70 million. The State Energy Office then used these grants to make awards to businesses, non-profits, and local governments for various purposes.

In Cumberland County, the Cumberland County Schools received an EECBG grant of $200,000 for lighting retrofits to more efficient lighting in 11 schools. Firstfloor K-12 Solutions, a company that provides development solutions to educational institutions, received an SEP grant of $200,000 for a photovoltaic solar project placed in Fayetteville at the New Century International Elementary School and Public Library & Information Center. The school complex is designed as a LEED Platinum building and will serve 800 students. This building is anticipated to approach net zero energy consumption with the energy generation of the photovoltaic solar system. Total cost of this project is nearly $4.2 million. Fayetteville State University received an SEP grant of $414,000. Sustainable Sandhills in Fayetteville received a $165,000 SEP grant to subsidize work experience for 42 interns.

Military Programs

The American Recovery and Reinvestment Act included approximately $7.4 billion in defense-related appropriations. This includes funding for all service areas and the Army Corps of Engineers. Recovery Act funding addressed some of the unique economic pressures faced by American service members because of their voluntary commitment to serve our nation. The Recovery Act included assistance to service members, upgrades aimed to improve the quality of life for troops and their families, funded three new facilities, and two new VA hospitals in North Carolina, addressing critical needs across the state. In addition to providing much needed facility improvements, this bill also provides more funding for our energy research programs, so that Department of Defense (DOD) can continue to lead the way in the national effort to achieve greater energy independence. North Carolina had 103 military projects funded for a total of $166 million.

In Cumberland County, the Department of Defense, Air Force, Army Corps of Engineers, and Veterans Administration spent a total of $162 million in ARRA funding. The majority of this funding was in contracts for improvements on Fort Bragg, although the amount includes other projects, such as $9 million for a 244-child capacity Child Development facility on the Ft Bragg campus, and several green-energy improvements on the base. The North Carolina Department of Transportation funded the completion of the Fayetteville loop, as part of the All-American Freeway program to increase vehicle access to Fort Bragg. This project was 100% ARRA funded for a total of more than $52 million.

Safety Net Programs

Safety net programs are the category of ARRA funding that consists of programs designed to help populations made particularly vulnerable by the economic crisis. These generally include increases in existing programs, most notably the increase in both benefit level and duration of unemployment payments. Increases in the amount and duration of unemployment payments makes up the largest chunk of safety net programs funded through the Recovery Act, totaling more than $3.5 billion statewide over more than two years. Safety net programs such as unemployment insurance and SNAP (formerly known as Food Stamps), not only benefit the recipient, but have a proven economic impact on a community.

Cumberland County residents received more than $X million in Unemployment Insurance increases during the 2 ½ year ARRA benefits increase. County residents also received $X million in SNAP benefit increases, and $X million in one-time payments of $250 to social security recipients.

Cumberland County received almost $2 million for Head Start Programs.

Cumberland County Builds the All American Freeway

One of the primary goals of the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act is to invest in critical infrastructure in order to generate immediate jobs and economic impact, and set the stage for long-term economic growth. Transportation is a great enabler of economic growth, acting as the lifeblood of commerce. It moves people to jobs and goods to the marketplace. Without strong transportation arteries, economies stagnate. The US Department of Transportation directed their Recovery allocation to deliver jobs and restore our nation's economy, emphasize sustainable investment and focus our policies on the people, businesses and communities, in jobs to expand transit capacity and modernize transit systems. The Recovery-funded projects were diverse as traditional highway and bridge projects, urban and rural transit upgrades, investment in a nationwide system of high speed rail, and improvements to the nation's airports to expand service and make safety improvements.

The N.C. Department of Transportation received $838 million in American Recovery and Reinvestment Act funding, $735 million for highway and bridge improvements, and $103 million for transit needs. Early in the process NCDOT identified more than $900 million in potential projects to be paid for with Recovery funds. These projects included major bridge rebuilds to repaving and much-needed upgrades.

NCDOT also chose projects that would stimulate the economy, and increase public safety and national security. One of these projects was the completion of the northern portion of I-295 in Fayetteville, a portion of the proposed Strategic Highway Corridor Network (STRANET), referred to as the All-American Freeway.

Fort Bragg is located north of the project area. There are about 40,000 soldiers stationed on the base. Fort Bragg officials worked with NC DOT on the project to enhance rapid access to and from the base. This Recovery-funded project will complete I-295 from N.C. 210 (Murchison Road) to I-95, giving Fort Bragg a direct connection to the interstate.

The All American Freeway will provide the military with direct access to I-95 south of Fayetteville. In the event of an emergency military deployment, the freeway will provide an additional transportation route for around 25,000 soldiers and civilian workers who commute to and from Fort Bragg daily.

This $55 million highway project includes grading more than five miles of I-295 from N.C. 210 (Murchison Road) to east of U.S. 401 (Ramsey Street). Three bridges will be built over N.C. 210 (Murchison Road), two bridges over Cross Creek, and a new interchange will be built at Ramsey Street that will include two bridges on I-295 over U.S. 401. In addition, two bridges will be built over a tributary to Carver's Creek.

The All American Freeway will see a projected 74,000 cars by 2030. The build has created 99 jobs over the life of the project, and the All American Freeway is projected to be complete by April 2014.
